Dear Friends,

I am pleased to announce the 2013 Congressional Art Competition and to invite high school students from across New York's 10th District – in Manhattan and Brooklyn – to participate. This art competition is sponsored by the U.S. House of Representatives, here in cooperation with The Art Institute of New York City, as an opportunity to recognize and encourage young artistic talent across the nation. The winner of our district's competition will be displayed for one year in the U.S. Capitol alongside other contest winners from across the nation. In addition, the winner will be provided with an opportunity to experience "A Day in the Life" event, where he or she will shadow a graduate of The Art Institute of New York City in their chosen program, and will be given a tour of the school and a meet-and-greet with the academic chair of the program of interest.

I hope that you will encourage any high school students that you know to enter the competition and to continue encouraging our nation's young artistic talent.

Guidelines:

- I can only accept submissions from high school students who either (a) reside in the Tenth Congressional District, or (b) attend a school that lies within my District. To see if you live in my district, please click here.
- All submissions must be received by Wednesday, May 1, 2013.
- Art works entered in the contest may be up to 32 inches by 32 inches (including the frame) and may be up to 4 inches in depth. The art work may be:
 - Paintings - including oil, acrylics, and watercolor
 - Drawings - including pastels, colored pencil, pencil, charcoal, ink, and markers
 - Collage
 - Prints - including lithographs, silkscreen, and block prints
 - Mixed media
 - Computer generated art
 - Photography
